

Did you see trees grow this year?

Our Picture Post Can!

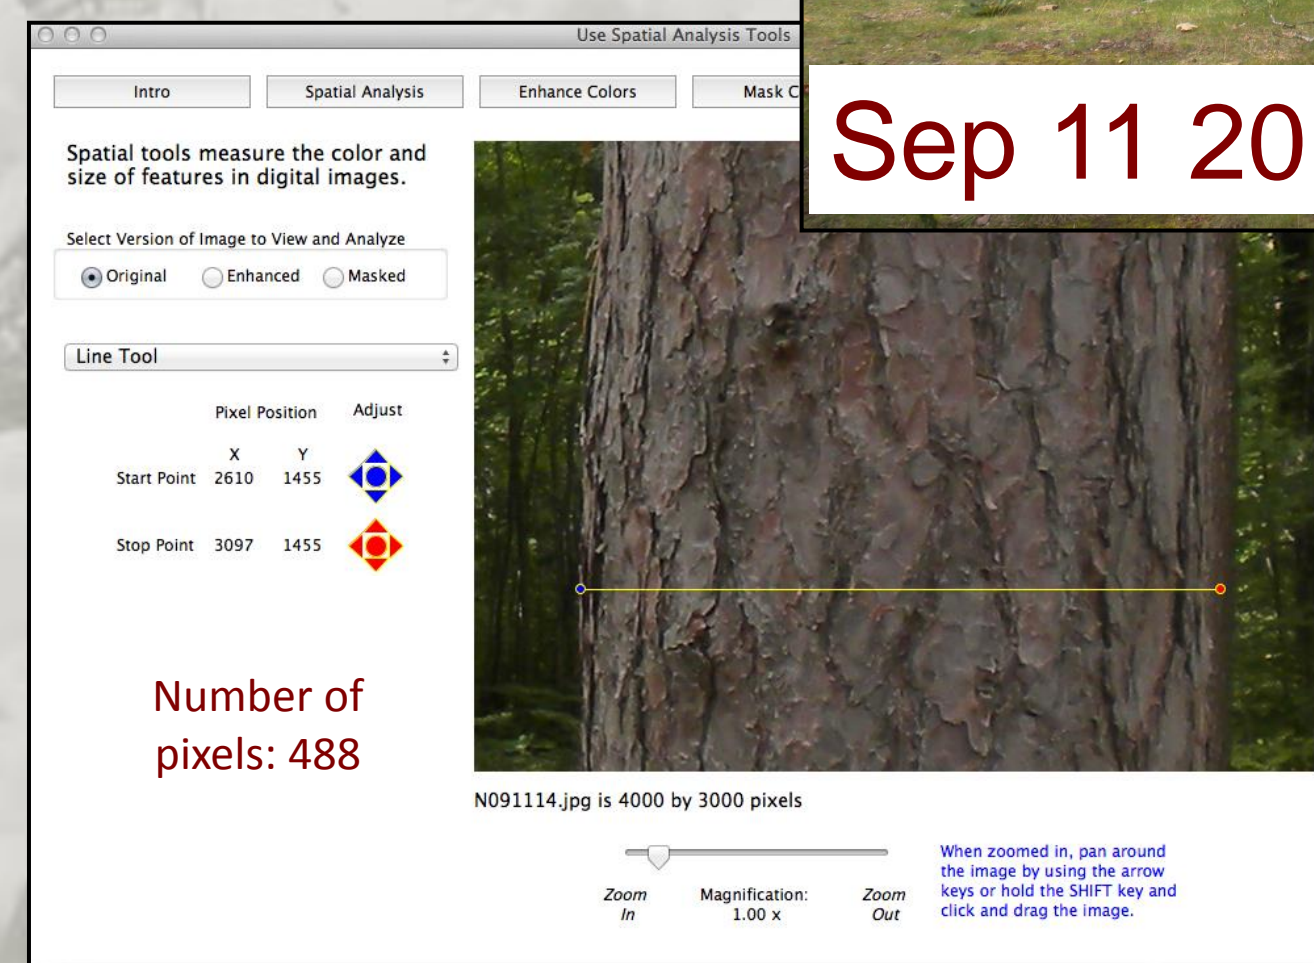

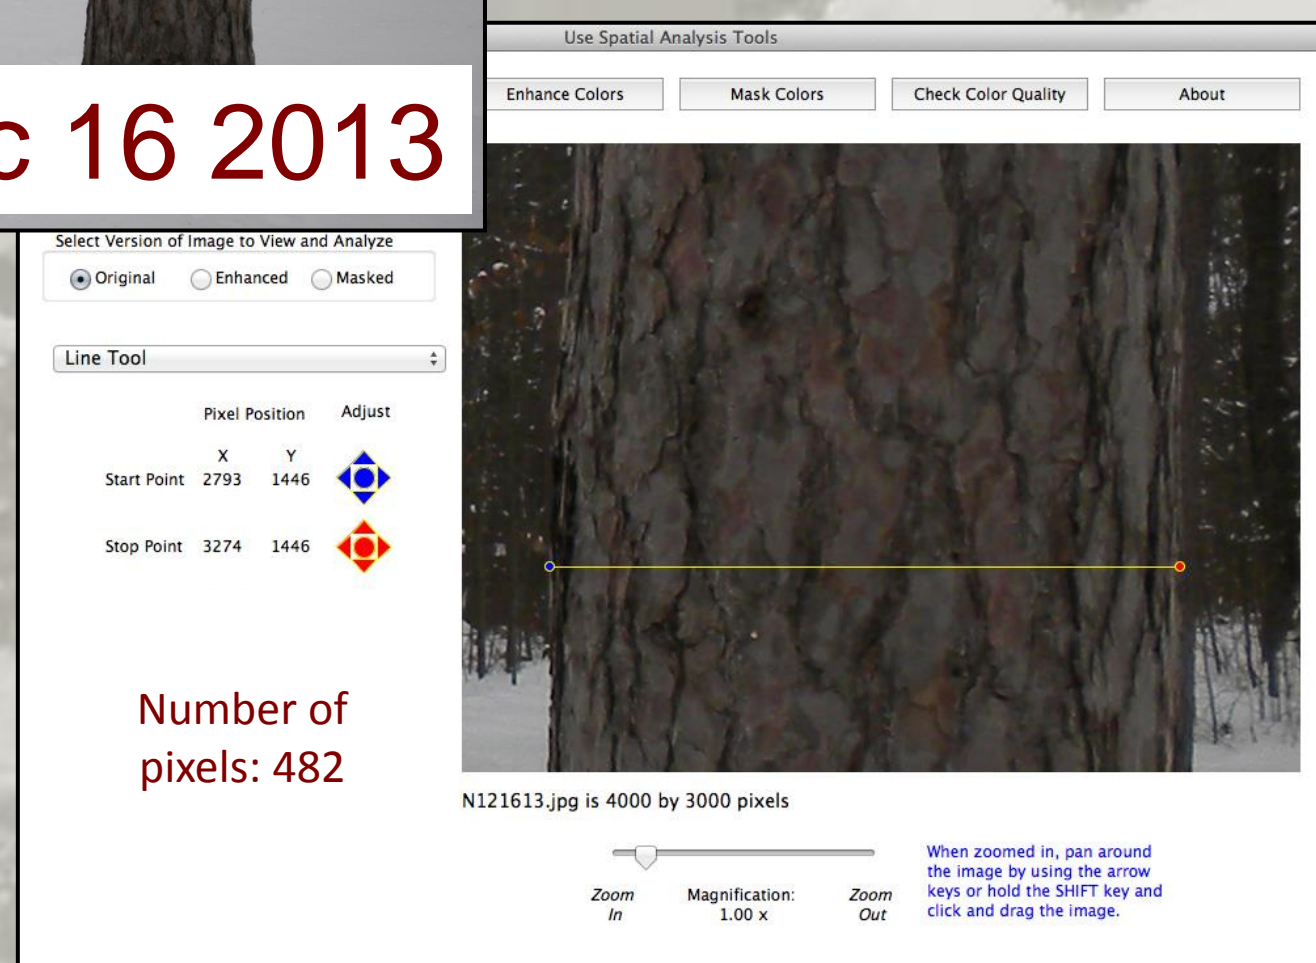

In the winter of 2013, the Discovery Center added a Picture Post for measuring tree growth. These photos show a white birch tree in 4 seasons.

Insets show computer software used to measure the tree's diameter at the same spot in each photo. Over the year, the birch added 6% to its width!

Using the measuring guides below, did the red pine tree grow?

Take and upload photos at a Discovery Center Picture Post today. It's easy! Just follow the directions on the posted sign when you hike, bike, snowshoe, or ski past a picture post.
